

Lower Than Low

Danny Vera

Diamonds in the trees
A sky of gold and a silver river in between

It's taken you away from me
You're floating down this river to a never ending sea

I don't wanna see you gone
Another soul taken away from me
And I don't wanna know how it feels lower than low

The dragonfly up in the sky
Will never tell the secret to the ones he left behind

He floats up to the surface lets his wings dry in the sun
No he will never tell anyone, he will never tell anyone

I don't wanna see you gone
Another soul taken away from me
And I don't wanna know how it feels lower than low
How it feels lower than low

Tick, tock, baby, don't say a word
And just watch time go by and lay here for a while

I don't wanna see you gone
Another soul taken away from me
And I don't wanna know how it feels Lower than low
How it feels lower than low
