

Veins

Danny Vera

Kissing and dancing, making love
No white circle made by the headlights of
A car that's running and a house is lost
In the desert where the sand is rough

Running through my veins
Running through my eyes again

Only headlights on a lonely road
There is no ending and the marks seem so old
They've been there for ages and cost what it cost
They stay there forever even if we are lost

Running through my veins
Running through my eyes again

Will you stay any longer
Will you help me get this way

Black and white frames
Spinning through my head
Of my house outside in my own bed

Running through my veins
Running through my eyes again

Will you stay any longer
Will you help me get this way
