

Be Alright

Dante Bowe

This is dedicated to the broken
The hurt and lonely and forgotten ones
This goes out to the weary
Let's keep dancing while the day is young

This right here is for the sleepless
Trying to make it in the fire ones
This is for the abandoned
Let's keep dancing while the day is young
'Cause

It'll be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright, alright
It's gonna be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright, alright
This won't last forever
Baby, it's gonna get better
It'll be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright

I'm singing out to the hidden
Waiting for the fruit that their hands have sown
Did you know there's a promise?
You'll get more than what you bargained for

And this is for the lonely
The ones that loved and the ones that lost
I know your heart may be hurting
Let's keep dancing 'til the day is done
Because

It'll be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright, alright
It's gonna be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright, alright
This won't last forever
Baby, it's gonna get better
It'll be alright, alright, alright
Alright, alright

There's a new, new day
There's a new, new day comin'
There's a new, new day
Just keep dancin' (Just keep dancin')
Oh, there's a new, new day
There's a new, new day comin'
There's a new, new day
Just keep dancin'

If you're standing on the edge
Or if you're home alone with a loaded gun
There's strength at your lowest
Life's worth living, you have just begun