

Flight

Daphne Loves Derby

When I step back
This place feels upside down
It's all I need to lose sight of the ground
I try so hard to fly but I just fall
I'm so dizzy from it all

Wake up I'm still waiting for a weightless night
Where my heart can take flight

Come away
I still have hope for
Skies that can break doors
The sun is grey
But I'll find a new light
To guide me away from here

Take a deep breath
I'm losing track of time
I don't know why but change can catch my eyes
How can I be surprised

Wake up I'm still waiting for a weightless night
Where my heart can take flight

Come away
I still have hope for
Skies that can break doors
The sun is grey
But I'll find a new light
To guide me away from here

Beautiful lights are crashing into the sea
Illuminating me
This time I can't look back from what I've seen
Oh, it's what I mean

Come away
I still have hope for
Skies that can break doors
The sun is grey
But I'll find a new light
To guide me away from here
