Walk me down the corridor
You can open any door
'Cause I know You're the key
To freeing me
Hidden places and galore
Waiting down the hall, there's more
I know You'll never judge
When I'm in need

You can have full access
You can have full access
You can have full access
To every room in my heart

When you know the love is real
You stop trying to conceal
You just let Him in
Let the healing begin
My God's not in the bandaid business
Will you trust Him, try forgiveness
You can accept yourself
Finally release everybody else

You can have full access
You can have full access
You can have full access
To every room in my heart

You can have full access
You can have full access
You can have full access
To every room in my heart

O, search me, know me
You accept the real me
So, come and change
Come rearrange

O, God, search me, know me
You would never reject me
So, come and change
Come rearrange

O, God, search me, know me
You have always loved me

So, come and change
Come rearrange
God, You can change
You can have Your way

You can have full access
You can have full access
You can have full access, yeah

You can have full access
You can have full access

You can have full access
