

Wanted

Dara Maclean

From the day you were born
And took your first breath
You opened your eyes and in came the light
He was watching you,
But all of your life
You couldn't shake
The lies in your head
Saying you're a mistake
But you were made
By a God who knows your name
He doesn't make mistakes.

You are wanted
To every broken heart,
He stands with open arms.
You are wanted
To every searching soul,
Look to the rising sun!
If you're lonely, hurting, gone too far
To the outcast you come as you are
For you, you are wanted,
You, you are wanted
You, you are wanted
You, you are wanted
Let this be the day
That joy takes the place
Of all of the years
That shame tried to steal away.
He's calling you.
Lift your eyes to see his face
Come run into the arms of grace!

You are wanted
To every broken heart,
He stands with open arms.
You are wanted
To every searching soul,
Look to the rising sun!
If you're lonely, hurting, gone too far
To the outcast you come as you are
For you, you are wanted,
You, you are wanted
You, you are wanted
You, you are wanted
You, you have been marked
You're set apart
And he calls you his.
So you don't have to search
Don't have to look for where you belong.
You are wanted, yeah, yeah!
You are wanted, yeah, yeah!

You are wanted
To every broken heart,
He stands with open arms.
You are wanted
To every searching soul,

Look to the rising sun!
If you're lonely, hurting, gone too far
To the outcast you come as you are
For you, you are wanted,
You, you are wanted
You, you are wanted,
You, you are wanted.
