

Promised Land

Dare

(I can see the promised land
Of my broken dream)

There's a fire across the water
By the lake of the burning trees
And I called to you but you turn away
From your hands flies a small white dove

Take me to your promised land
Take the fire from my hand
Lead me to your rising sun
When my life is done

The sun will rise, the sun will fall
And no time which will go man
And I called to you but you turn away
In my hands lay your hands in star

Take me to your promised land
Take the fire from my hand
Lead me to your rising sun
When my life is done, I think of you

Take me to the promised land
Take me to your promised land
Take me to your promised land, yeah
Take me to

Yeah, yeah, take me to your promised land
Take the fire from my hand
Lead me to your rising sun
When my life is done, I'll come to you

On the edge of darkness I can hear you come
(I'll come to you)
On the edge of darkness to the promised land
On the edge of darkness I can hear you come
On the edge of darkness to the promised land

On the edge of darkness I can hear you come
On the edge of darkness to the promised land
On the edge of darkness
