

Rising Sun

Dare

Where are you now?
When I need you most
I called your name
As I watched you go
And after all we'd been through
It hurt so bad

Just when I thought your love had gone
You came and brought it back
You took me to your rising sun, oh yeah

I close my eyes but I can't let go
I see her fly, rising to her soul
And after all we'd been through
It hurt so bad

Just when I thought your love had gone
You came and brought it back
You took me to your rising sun
And you gave your love to me
And when you brought my heart
You've known where I've always been
And the last bird is gone to serve the skies
When the stars fall from grace into your eyes again, again

Just when I thought your love had gone
You gave your love to me
You took me to your rising sun
And you gave your love to me
Just when I thought your love had gone
And you gave your love to me
You took me to your rising sun
And you gave, you gave your love
