

When

Dare

I heard you calling from your distant shore
How could I give you more
You'd seen it all before
Just a memory from my distant past
How could we make it last
You kept on running fast

You said this could last forever
And that we'd be together

When will the storm be over
When will the summer come again
When will the heartache turn to stone

I saw you dancing through that bad little storm
You said that we were strong
Where did we go so wrong
I lie awake inside my broken dream
Where do we go from here
When did your love disappear

You said this could last forever
And that we'd stay together

When will the storm be over
When will the summer come again
When will the heartache turn to stone
When will the storm be over
When will the summer come again
When will the heartache turn to stone

We could live for forever
Time is on our side
Will you save my heart tonight
Will you save my heart tonight yeah

When will the storm be over
When will the summer come again
When will the heartache turn to stone
When will the storm be over
When will the summer come again
When will the heartache turn to stone
