

Last Words

Dark Age

Today I have lost my inner fight - time for me to go Innocence aches if you are angry inside
I want you to know that injustice broke my inner defence and now I am here to take the consequence

Your false and cold society are dreary minds and mean nothing to me I can't go any further -
I have reached the point of no return

These are my last words to a world I will leave behind
These are my last words to the ones I cannot find

Bury my heart under a different sun with a light that is brighter Shining on me to show everyone here lies no fighter Just a dreamer born with a crystal soul inside of a shell
I am Falling deep into a bottomless hole Awaiting the end that only time could tell

The sources are cold reality, careless minds that mean nothing to me
I can't go any further
I have reached the point of no return
