

No Escape

Dark Divine

"They will say that I have shed some blood
Then what's blood for, if not for shedding?"
OH!

Look, under my bed
Everyone is saying that it's in my head
These shadows in the corners of my eyes
Constantly filling my head with their lies!
Got me feeling like I'm going insane
And I'm running out of any logical explanation
How can you run from what you cannot see?
This living with the living is gonna be the death of me!

Something just isn't adding up
Voices scream that they've had enough
Invading my thoughts and all that I trust
There's no escape when you hear them sing!

See all the damage done
Everything is crumbling down again
I'm looking for the villains and they all look the same as friends
I can't trust anyone anymore, I'm panicking and I'm bored
How can you see through a thousand deceptions
When they're playing an angle that's too hard to read!?

Something just isn't adding up
Voices scream that they've had enough
Invading my thoughts and all that I trust
There's no escape when you hear them sing!
(There's no escape when you hear them sing!)

I can't even feel my face, I'm done living in this place
I've become such a fucking disgrace!
A slave to the voices
No one is safe!
(I'm done living in this place!)
(I'm done living in this place!)
I can't even feel my face, I'm done living in this place!
I've become such a fucking disgrace!
And there's no fucking way to escape!

Something just isn't adding up
Voices scream that they've had enough
Invading my thoughts and all that I trust
There's no escape when you hear them sing!
Something just isn't adding up (Something just isn't adding up!)
Voices scream that they've had enough
There's no escape
There's no escape!

When you hear them sing!
There's no escape when you—!
