

Run Away

Dark Divine

(Run away, run away!)
(Run away, run away!)

Run away, run away
From the thoughts in your brain
Tearing you apart like the blade on a chain
Insane, the look on your face
Cuts like knife, when you live with no shame!

A face of fear is hiding
Behind this mask of mine
Forgiveness is a virtue
That I have left behind!

Run away run away
From the sickness you crave
The only thing that can save you
Is the sound blade on a chain!

What's the point in living for something
When you can't even live for yourself?
All we know is bleeding for nothing
And the saw is always there to help
What's the point in learning from reflections?
Try to change what can't be undone
Your mind screams louder than a chainsaw
When it chases you all you can do is run!

Run away run away
Run away from the chain!

There's nothing in this internal wasteland
No light at the end of road so
Run, run, run, run, run
From the me that I swore I would never become!

I will tear you apart
I will kill everything that you are
I'm a monster of distain
Manifestations of all of my pain!

What's the point in living for something
When you can't even live for yourself?
All we know is bleeding for nothing
And the saw is always there to help
What's the point in learning from reflections?
Try to change what can't be undone
Your mind screams louder than a chainsaw
When it chases you all you can do is run!

"Ladies and gentlemen
We apologize for this brief intermission in your regularly scheduled program ming
But it seems that some of you are unaware of the evens that will soon take p lace
If you want to try and run away, you can
But, just know that it will only prolong a very bloody end

Scary as it may be, we promise you, its all part of the fun
Bye bye

Separating the flesh from meaning
The state of seeing you're all alone but you
Can't escape the bloody sorrows
To know the feeling of blade to bone!

What's the point in living for something
When you can't even live for yourself?
All we know is bleeding for nothing
And the saw is always there to help
What's the point in learning from reflections
Try to change what can't be undone
Your mind screams louder than a chainsaw
When it chases you all you can do is run!

Run away, run away
Run away from the chain!
