

Gold, Rubies and Diamonds

Dark Lunacy

In this coldest winter the rain bites the ones with a human sentiment
And you won't remember the warmness of spring
Of spring

The town cries in silence, in hopes of seeing justice for all But this winter will dry off the mind

Steady distant wings
This soul wants to stay More alive than life itself - she won't survive

Happy indeed I was loved by all embracing all the good souls this said Truth

And Death stole me away all the sighs,
embracing my memories

And the Swallows bring the Spring but the Winter brought a Swallow and she brought Spring to Winter Let this Spring ignite all my soul

And Death stole me away all the sighs,
embracing my memories

And Death stole me away all the sighs,
embracing my memories

and take my eyes, take my ruby, my gold leaves and fly for my life

My gone life
My gone life

You decide to die here by my side Circles and circles around all my town In the frost you flied towards the other side Circles and circles - my wings made of wax

Is this the end of a fairytale?
Your journey

...My journey

"My forgotten hopes, your forsaken truth"
