

Vicious Thinking

Dark New Day

I move carefully there's more than just one way to get through the atmosphere Breathing heavily
I watch you take the bait it's strong when you're near Oceans apart, and closer with every wave I'm hiding the way I feel Caught in the current but it isn't real

This is
This is an exercise in vicious thinking and it takes more than effort to keep from sinking and after all, it's only just a game
after all, it's only just a game

I let you take from me enough to fill the hole that someone has left in you Letting you believe until the plot unfolds and you find the truth

This is
and it takes more than effort to keep from sinking
and after all, it's only just a game
after all, it's only just a game

With no time to wait
I'm making my way inside

An exercise in vicious thinking
and it takes more than effort to keep from sinking
and after all, it's only just a game
after all, it's only just a game
