

Breaking Free

Dark Sarah

It's so easy to see me now
When I'm feeling alright
But did you see the shady light
Creeping behind?
It's so easy to see me thrive
But then I'm alone
The weight of the universe
On my soul

This is how the villains are made
This is how the villains are made!

I'm breaking free!
I'm taking my liberation
From the dreams
I cannot redeem!
I'm breaking free!
Returning my coloration
My power to be
Something I need!

It's so easy to turn away
When fear is immense
But did you see the emptiness
That led to offense?
It's so easy to leave alone
And just walk away
From the one who is feeling small
And is left to stray

This is how the villains are made
This is how the villains are made!

I'm breaking free!
I'm taking my liberation
From the dreams
I cannot redeem!
I'm breaking free!
Returning my coloration
My power to be
Something I need!

I turned into a monster, and I was left alone
In the darkness, in the vast aeon
You made my spirit wander, you made me burn in flames
To be stronger, to end the endless stray

I turned into a monster
My spirit wandered
To be stronger
I turned into a monster
To be stronger

It's so easy to see me now
When I'm feeling alright
But did you see the shady light
Creeping behind?

It's so easy to leave alone
And just walk away
From the one who is feeling small

I'm breaking free!
I'm taking my liberation
From the dreams
I cannot redeem!
I'm breaking free!
Returning my coloration
My power to be
Something I need!
