

Memories Fall

Dark Sarah

I should welcome yesterday and live the ache and pain away, you say
This life give me many tears, and now my dreams are full of fears

Weep no more Sarah, the black veil will rise and change your sorrow to a new life!

In the flames of your pain, you must walk until the rain comes

Listen to me Sarah
Yes, I hear you
Welcome to a different dawn!

Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall, memories fall
They will be gone!
Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall!

Memories, there'll be life for me too!
Memories, they will finally leave you
Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall!

I know now tears are left behind, and there's something new to find for me
(I see the world fades, behind your black veil)

Now I've conquered all the pain, this new strength running through my veins
(I see your world fades, behind the black veil)

The fear leaves you Sarah
Yes, but who are you?
See how the black veil rises!

Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall, memories fall
They will be gone!
Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall!

Memories, there'll be life for me too!
Memories, they will finally leave you
Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall!

See, it is true, you will find strength in you just let the memories fall
This new life will give so much more!
Memories fall! Memories fall!

Memories, there'll be life for me too!

Memories, they will finally leave you!
Memories fall, memories fall, memories fall!
