

The Devil's Peak

Dark Sarah

In the shadows it speaks my name
I know there's no place to hide
It reads my mind
I know this place
I know its silent play
It's haunted, hollow
The voice I follow

Revive thy souls
These hollow halls
Have bound you for too long
No more sighs
For the light
In the endless night
Take this light
It will guide
You to the other side
Let it go
You'll never know
This place after you're gone

The walls are screaming about the pain
But the silence lingers on
And the life is gone
Loneliness creeps
And enters The Devil's Peak
These haunted halls
Won't open the doors

Revive thy souls
These hollow halls
Have bound you for too long
No more sighs
For the light
In the endless night
Take this light
It will guide
You to the other side
Let it go
You'll never know
This place after you're gone

Now burn like fire
Flow like water
And let the wind flow through
Then feel the power
Of this hour
The earth will heal you

Revive thy souls
These hollow halls
Have bound you for too long
No more sighs
For the light
In the endless night
Take this light
It will guide

You to the other side
Let it go
You'll never know

Now burn like fire
Flow like water
And let the wind flow through
Then feel the power
Of this hour
The earth will heal you
