

The Hex

Dark Sarah

It's a misty doomsday
All the creatures wide awake
Redemption awaits
I take a step outside and hear
The wind is howling in
The turning leaves of the dying trees
Their chanting gives me creeps

Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified
Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified

Then the emerald halo
Lures the creatures with its song
Revolving green
Bursting from the green halo
The hex is roaming like
A numbing force for a sullen core
No shame, regret, remorse!

Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified
Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified

Until the night, until the night
Until the night
Within our hearts the hex is justified
Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified
Until the night, until the night
Until the night we wait and hide
Within our hearts the hex is justified