

Look how far we are
I can almost catch a star
I think they look different
When seen from a distance

Everything here is so familiar
It almost hurts
But do you know what is worse?
I'm stuck on this lousy ship

Come here and see how high we are now!
I know, I'd rather stay where I am now

Are you afraid of the heights?
I'm not
You're afraid of the heights!
I'm not
You know that once I did fly!

You and I will now fly
The moon shines so bright
From darkness we both will climb
Reach higher and higher!

Look dragon, no hands!
You're such a show off

Here two castaways
That's us, drift along
The milky way
They're hoping that someday
All of their dreams will come true

I wish, I wish upon a star that my Heart will be found there where you are

We're going to the hills
Where the dreams will be real
The gods will see we have the key!

You and I will now fly
The moon shines so bright
From darkness we both will climb
Reach higher and higher!

You and I may find, find
You and I, with you I'll find
Finally peace of mind
