

Wayward Eyes

Dark Tranquillity

Antithetical to our veracity
We never speak of this
A self-contained betrayal
A violence owned

Left out cold by our time
The oncoming oppression
Submit to the cruelest force
We're dragged behind by our lies

This is our fate
So grand and blind
As is our will to live up to our minds
This is our fate
So grand and blind
We set our wayward eyes
Too far beyond our reach

Like distant stars, our light was cold
The inner darkness, expansive and profound

In infinite transparency
We enhance the intrigue
With insufficient sight
Our imagination takes us down

This is our fate
So grand and blind
As is our will to live up to our minds
This is our fate
So grand and blind
We set our wayward eyes
Too far beyond our reach

This is our fate
So grand and blind
As is our will to live up to our minds
This is our fate
So grand and blind
We set our wayward eyes
Too far beyond our reach

This is our fate
So grand and blind
As is our will to live up to our minds
Yeah, this is our fate
So grand and blind
We set our wayward eyes
