

Don't Need Sunshine

The Darkness

I'm alive
And I love it
There's nothing you could give to me
That I covet

I was born with everything I need
The air that I breathe and the blood that I bleed
I'm feeling lighter with every thing I lose
I'm down to two cars and hundred pairs of shoes

I don't need sunshine to get me a tan
I don't need an app to show me how far I ran
I don't want be a part of anybody else's plan
I don't need a woman to behave like a man

I'm alive, more or less
Less is more so I say no instead of yes

I can live without emotion, cold-hearted and thick-skinned
I could live without the weather, especially the wind
Complete contentment, a happy man indeed
Just the clothes on my back and a fuck ton of weed

I don't need sunshine to get me a tan
I don't need an app to show me how far I ran
I don't need to be a part of anybody else's plan
I don't need a woman to behave like a man

And I don't need sunshine to get me a tan
I don't need an app to show me how far I ran
I don't need to be a part of anybody else's plan
I don't need a woman to behave like a man
