

No Promise In The Heavens

Darkseed

And I am still waiting
For clean to come yet he's not there
He's killing dreams out in the sea

I feel like - I can't breathe
Life's - crushing down on me
Heavy salt will wash away my sin

No one left - I could blame it on
No more hope - all is said and done
Life seems sealed - as the night breaks in

And rears mount the horizon
And blackened is the night
The world has drowned in cries

I search for many years
He is all cherished all my life
I roamed behind the veil of night

The essence of life - it should never be lost
Thrown to be beast - to be mighty tossed

I I give myself away - on this blackened day
I give myself away to you!

The world is drowning...
The world has drowned in cries...
