Ocean Bed

Darlingside

Ghost dog running down the rocky edges
To the churned up under of the ocean bed

No, I'm not running and I never have been
To the true blue bottom where the light ends

Old growth forest and the sun in your veins
At the daily dawning of a green new age

No, no one changes with a snap in the air
And you can't repurpose what was never there

Restart in the old familiar dark we're swimming through
Long view into the blue

It's day I think, but we might be underwater
In a sea creature's dream, in a dreaming drink

No, there's no time for the end over end
And everything to do before dying again

Long view into the blue

Ghost dog running
To the churned up under of the ocean bed
No, I'm not running
To the true blue bottom where the light ends

Restart in the old familiar dark we're swimming through
Long view into the blue
