

Dance In the Darkness

Darrell Scott

i saw the curtain move i saw the hand that pulled the shade and in a moment the lights went out and a radio began to play and i crossed the empty street with the window in my view but i cou ldn't see through to watch them dance in the darkness then roun d the corner came this old man's shuffling feet and i bummed hi m for a cigarette and he hands the whole damn pack to me and he said, "ive watched you for the last six nights and brother why do you want to bleed? i guess you just can't shake the need to watch them dance in the darkness" up there an angel's falling up there can't you hear him calling out her name can you feel them touch? can you hear them breath e? up there time ain't moving up there no one's losing any slee p for fools like us, two fools like us down here on the street i said, "wait a minute mister man, you just don't understand sh e was everything i ever wanted" and the old man he just held ou t his hand and said, "welcome to the one place no one ever want s to be where even in your dreams you watch them dance in the d arkness" up there an angel's falling up there can't you hear them callin g out her name can you feel them touch can you hear them breath e up there time ain't moving up there no one's losing any sleep for fools like us, to fools like us down here on the street