

Moments

Darude

Do you ever feel that you live a lie
And do you ever feel like given up

I'm a fighter provider a sinner a saint
But I'm tired of losing myself

Do you ever feel that you live a lie
You can tell the world that I was waiting
Waiting for the moments just like this

When we can build the house of love and forgiveness
You and me
We can go all the way tonight
We can go all the way tonight

You can tell the world that I was waiting
Waiting for the moments just like this
When we can build the house of love and forgiveness
You and me

We can go all the way tonight

We can go all the way tonight
Do you even care when I'm walking down

Lying on the ground would you stick around

It's a game gotta play gotta win to survive
And I'm rolling the dice tonight

That's the only way I can live my life
You can tell the world that I was waiting
Waiting for the moments just like this

When we can build the house of love and forgiveness
You and me
We can go all the way tonight
Moments just like this

We can go
We can go
We can go
We can go

We can go all the way tonight
We can go all the way tonight

You can tell the world that I was waiting
Waiting for the moments just like this

When we can build the house of love and forgiveness
You and me
We can go all the way tonight
Moments just like this
We can go all the way tonight
