Darwin Deez

I'm an aircraft carrier making a mean turn, dumping F-18's
I sleepwalk to your house completely naked and ask about your dreams

My love goes on and on like an alarm clock
When I'm ringing I'm singing your praises in a language only arms talk

And what I want you to know is I am only in your arms when you let me
And what I want you to know, as a reminder, is I am where you left me

Your bookmark, placeholder
Dog-eared darling
Your perma-date, your shoulder
Open garden

I'm a particle beam and I do mean business, you've seen the way I shine
I'm traveling toward your dark heart on a Tuesday, momentum undefined

My love goes on and on like an electron
Can't measure my spin, where I've been, but where I'll be I'm dead set on

What I want you to know is I am only in your arms when you let me
And what I want you to know, as a reminder, is I am where you left me

Your bookmark, placeholder
Dog-eared darling
Your perma-date, your shoulder
Open garden

What I want you to know is I am only in your arms when you let me
And what I want you to know, as a reminder, is I am where you left me

What I want you to know is I am only in your arms when you let me...
