

One Summer

Daryl Braithwaite

Started out last night, I was thinking of days gone by
Of the times
I've had, and the things that
I've left behind
Some change, some die, still we manage to survive
It's knowing when and what to do, it's up to you
Don't know what's going on, I can't wait till

One summer, I'll find a way-ay
One summer, will always remain
One summer, remember the way

Hauled down, turned around
Find myself facing they wall
I think back to school, it's all the same, slightly different r ules
Outside, on your own
Watch yourself 'cause you're all alone
I know what's going on, I can't wait till

One summer, I'll find a way
One summer, will always remain
One summer, remember the way

One summer, never the same

I think back not far, driving down the beach in my car
Another place same time, icky runs along a fine line
Down there, no chance, he's trapped in a different romance
He's life a fait accompli, he never did see

One summer, I'll find a way-ay
One summer, will always remain
One summer, remember the way
One summer, never the same

One summer, I'll find a way-ay
One summer, will always remain
One summer, remember the way
One summer, I'll find a way hay
One summer, will always remain
