

All Because Of You

Daryle Singletary

Some days I feel like a man on a mission
Some days I think I've lost my vision
I may not be certain just where I'm going
But I'm sure of the hand I'm holding

And I'll make it through
I've got a reason to
And it's all because of you

All because of you, I'll go that extra mile
And when you see me break out in a smile
It's all because of you

I swore I'd never learn how to dance
These two left feet didn't stand a chance
I liked my music rowdy and loud
But now you've got me turning it down low

I've changed my tune
Now I'm a waltzing fool
And it's all because of you

All because of you, I'll go that extra mile
And when you see me break out in a smile
It's all because of you

If I see things through
A dreamer's point of view
Then it's all because of you
