

21st Birthday

Dasha

Remember that dress that you like
Well guess what I'm wearing tonight
And you could've seen me in it
Been center of attention
If you just swallowed your pride

Couldn't wait to drink wine with me
Well at least legally
You're not here to light my candles
So I'll buy myself handle
And drink until I'm

Spinning like I should be in that dress
But I'm sitting here just waiting on a text

On my 21st birthday
Just another thursday
You had an excuse
Guess that this just proves
You had nothing to say
Because it's the one day
That you should've called
Said nothing at all
On my 21st birthday

There's confetti everywhere
And glitter stuck in my hair
Probably stay there for a minute
To remind me when you didn't
Even think to care

Spinning like I should be in that dress
I'll waste my wish on what I'll never get

On my 21st birthday
Just another thursday
You had an excuse
Guess that this just proves
You had nothing to say
Because it's the one day
That you should've called
Said nothing at all
On my 21st birthday

It's my 21st birthday
On my 21st birthday
It's my 21st birthday
On my 21st birthday

On my 21st birthday
Just another thursday
You had an excuse
Guess that this just proves
You had nothing to say
That you should've called
Said nothing at all

On my 21st birthday
