

Need Your Love

Dave Barnes

The southern wind blows through my window
The sunset's pulling down the stars
I am tracing this trail of moonlight
Till I'm back to where you are

I need your love
I need your love

I remember our beginning
You smiling in the sand
You're no different, but always changing
Though I'll never understand

I need your love
I need your love
I need your love
Oh, I need your love

You're the blood that keeps my heart beating
You're my summer sky
You're my silver lining every time

And I need your love
And I need your love

I need your love
I need your love
I need your love
Oh, I need your love

Oh, I need your love
(I need, I need, I need, I need your love)
