

Pillow

Dave Days

Cold hands cold feet
You stay warm in your bed sheets
You're all wrapped up in it
But you can't sleep
Dry eyes open
Yeah I'm staring at the ceiling
Wondering where you are Missing you again

When the world gets too cold
Tell me who you gonna hold
This bed was made for two
But you sleep alone but you know
That no matter who you're with
No it's never quite like this
You don't have to be alone tonight

Let me be your pillow
When you fall asleep
When you're ready just let go
And fall into me
Yeah I can keep you safe all night
Wrap your arms around me tight
And let go of your pillow
Yeah and hold on to me

And I feel your breath
Breathing down my neck
I'm dreaming again alone
Are you really there
And it breaks my heart
When you push pull me apart
I've been climbing mountains
Just to wake up where you are

When the world gets too cold
Tell me who you gonna hold
This bed was made for two
But you sleep alone but you know
That no matter who you're with
No it's never quite like this
You don't have to be alone tonight

Let me be your pillow
When you fall asleep
When you're ready just let go
And fall into me
Yeah I can keep you safe all night
Wrap your arms around me tight
And let go of your pillow
Yeah

Let me be your pillow
(When you fall asleep)
(And fall into me)
Yeah I can keep you safe all night

You know how to be alone tonight

Let me be your pillow

Let me be your pillow
