

Let That River Go

Dave Dobbyn

The hounds are warring, the blood of love is flowing
There's that sound again, its the sound of nothing but of pain
There's no such thing, as a world without you
Cause I will hold you up till the end
Against all your dreams
So lay down your darkness
And step into the light

Hey you, your running rings around the world
It will run rings around us all
It conspires to steal our soul
Just to watch us take a fall
So lay down your darkness and watch your dread explode
Lay down your darkness
And let that river go
Let that river go

Hey
There's no such thing, as a world without you
Cause I will hold you up till
Way beyond your wildest dreams
Lay down your darkness
Lay down your darkness and step into the light
Lay down your darkness and let that river go

There's no such thing as a world without you
I will hold you up till the end
Way beyond your wildest dreams
Lay down your darkness
Lay down your darkness
Lay down your darkness
