

Glittering Facade

Dave Mason

Sprawling out before me in a glittering facade
I find it hard to see you even though I'm looking hard
Inside a situation that's breaking up your heart
The city's got you cornered and it's tearing you apart

Oh oh oh
La la la la la la
Oh oh oh
La la la la la la

Snow fell in the summer, even in the fall
Snow fell all around me as I came to be reborn
If all the true believers in the world are held in scorn
Then all the true deceivers should be gone before the dawn

Oh oh oh
La la la la la la
Oh oh oh
La la la la la la

Burn the bridge behind us, tighten up the hold [?]
Sifting through the shreds of love that we've been left to hold
The passages we've wandered through, true love had been too cold
But now we're here together, and God I know it's home

Oh oh oh
La la la la la la
Oh oh oh
La la la la la la

Doo doo doo doo doo doo doo doo
Doo doo doo doo doo doo doo doo
Doo doo doo doo doo doo doo doo
Doo doo doo doo doo doo doo doo...
