

Do You Remember

Dave Matthews Band

Do you remember
When we were small
Do you remember
When we believed

There was gold in the river
And ghosts in the attic
Don't go up there alone
The enemy's coming
We will take cover
The odds are against us

Do you remember
When we were young
Do you remember
When we make believe

We were sinking in quicksand
There's no rope to save us
Yeah we're on our own
We're searching for treasure
Kissing love in the backseat
All we're on our own
The enemy's coming
We should take cover
The odds are against us

Do you remember
When we could see

The color of sunshine
The color of laughter
And the color of love
The color of water
And the summer so plenty
Is pouring all over us
The color of sunrise
Rising up like an ocean
And pouring all over us
It's pouring all over us

Do you remember
When we would scream out loud

Come out and get me
There's a river we drowning
Won't you come out and play
The color of water
Rising up like an ocean
And pouring all over us
We could be heroes
Making love in the backseat
It's the summer of love
The color of water
And the color of sunrise

Summer of love
Pouring all over us
