1. I know I'll miss her later

Wish I could bend my love to hate her

Wish I could be her creator

To twist her arms now

She stares up at the stars when

The stars fell from her hair then

I bent down to collect them

And then she was gone

2. Oh I sleep just to dream her

I beg the night just to see her

That my only love should be her

Just to lie in her arms

Oh I came there to find out

Find out she made up her mind

My arms are all tied up

To me she was blind

3. This space between us

Where wingless dreams fall earless

Will you not bear me witness

With your back to me now

It seems so unnerving

Yet still somehow deserving

That she could hold my heart so tightly

And still not see me here

4. Oh I sleep just to dream her

I beg the night just to see her

That my only love should be her

Just to lie in her arms

I know I'll miss her later

I wish I could bend my love to hate her

Wish I could be her creator

To be the light in her eyes
