Hey, no, no, no, Oh~

We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Repeating every single day
We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Getting tired of each other little by little babe

We're together but we're not talking
We're in love but we don't express it

We went to the end, we're not right for each other
Can we love again? (Can we?)
We're too busy scoping each other out
We've lost our laughter

We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Repeating every single day
We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Getting tired of each other little by little babe

On nights like this, tears fall
I regret but I have no choice
I listen to all the stories on the radio

We went to the end, we're not right for each other
Can we love again? (Can we?)
We're too busy scoping each other out
We've lost our laughter

We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Repeating every single day
We break up then make up
Then we break up again and make up
We fight then we make up
Getting tired of each other little by little babe

What type of girl you've met,
What you did, where you went
What kind of guy I met,
How much I loved him
We won't know, we won't know when we break up
We can't know, our trust is broken,
We changed too much

The look you're giving me is cold rather than strange
It feels so unfamiliar,
I'm never in your arms anymore
I'm becoming more and more
Indifferent to your calls

What do I do?
I'm scared every day
We fall in love then fall out
We break up then make up
