Once more, that cruel season
The season that stops and passes
By like it's lost
Comes to me, comes to me,
Painfully, painfully
My weakened heart goes back to those memories

The cruel season doesn't avoid me again
Not allowing me to remember the good memories
The childish days and nights
When we cuddled and lay down
Are getting farther away once more

The night grows deep and someone is singing
Just like our deep night
When we were too young
It becomes clear, becomes clear,
Like the color of the night
My weakened heart goes back to those memories

The cruel season doesn't avoid me again
Not allowing me to remember the good memories
The childish days and nights
When we cuddled and lay down
Are getting farther away once more

Woo like this La La La La La La La La

The faraway season feels like yesterday, It's sad
If I hold out my hand, seems like I could grab it
That's what makes me cry
The childish days and nights
When we cuddled and lay down
Are getting farther away once more
The childish days and nights
When we cuddled and lay down
Are getting farther away, farther away
