My Heart Beats For You

David Archuleta

I will not forget the day I met you
Walking down inside, you walked my way
Like an angel in the night
You filled me with light
On that first day, mmh

But I'm not the man that you once met
The day you stole my heart, I was born again
And I'll live for you until my life is through
My heart, it beats for you

My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh

When you've learned to love me, can't be easy
Oh, I'm not the man you married years ago
But somehow you helped me see
To trust God much more than me
It feels like breathing, like letting go, ooh yeah

I'm not the man that you once met
The day you stole my heart, I was born again
And I'll live for you until my life is through
My heart, it beats for you

My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh

I had all the thought my life was over
Looking at the years and what they gave
I was stuck in a place with no way to escape
Trapped by my shame, oh

'Cause I'm not the man that you once met
The day you stole my heart, I was born again
And I'll live for you until my life is through
My heart, it beats for you

My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
My heart, it beats for you
My heart, it beats for you, oh
