

Maybe Tomorrow

David Ball

Well, I hate to say goodbye, don't you know?
But I've got that restless feelings in my bones
Yeah, momma says it's all because that night
I was born under a green traffic light

Maybe tomorrow I'll change my ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll quit my rambling ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll settle down some place
Maybe tomorrow, maybe tomorrow not today

Well, you see that big car sitting up in the drive
He's got that restless look bad in his eyes
Any man found standing still automobile
I guess I'll get in behind the wheel

Maybe tomorrow I'll change my ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll quit my rambling ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll settle down some place
Maybe tomorrow, maybe tomorrow not today

Well, I head out on the highway when the highway calls
Rolling down the lane just like a bowling ball

Maybe tomorrow I'll change my ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll quit my rambling ways
Maybe tomorrow I'll settle down some place
Maybe tomorrow, maybe tomorrow not today
