

Missing Her Blues

David Ball

I got the missing her all day heading for a heartache blues
I tell myself it's over but I know it's just no use
Cause I wake up every morning with the same old broken hearted
Feeling that I just can't lose
It's those missing her all day every day in more ways
Heading for a heartache blues

I know what's coming it won't be long
I'm heading for the bottom like a sinking stone
Goodbye note that's all she left
And poor ol' me all by myself

With the missing her all day heading for a heartache blues
I tell myself it's over but I know it's just no use
Cause I wake up every morning with the same old broken hearted
Feeling that I just can't lose
It's those missing her all day every day in more ways
Heading for a heartache blues

Sun comes up the same old thing
Ain't no doubt what the day will bring
Walking the floor and calling her name
The sun goes down I start all over again

With the missing her all day heading for a heartache blues
I tell myself it's over but I know it's just no use
Cause I wake up every morning with the same old broken hearted
Feeling that I just can't lose
It's those missing her all day every day in more ways
Heading for a heartache blues
It's those missing her all day every day in more ways
Heading for a heartache blues
