

No More Tears

David Ball

No more tears, I'm through crying
I'm gonna get my heart back on its feet
And get you off my mind
I'm stepping right on out of these blues
There'll be no more tears over you

I've been holed up holding on to your memory
But it don't keep me warm at night or keep me company
I've been wasting precious time just making beliefs
Now I think it's time for your memory to leave

No more tears, I'm through crying
I'm gonna get my heart back on its feet
And get you off my mind
I'm stepping right on out of these blues
There'll be no more tears over you

They say that everybody can expect a little rain
But it's high time for the weather to change
My heart keeps telling me there's one thing to do
I gotta get out of the house and get on over you

No more tears, I'm through crying
I'm gonna get my heart back on its feet
And get you off my mind
I'm stepping right on out of these blues
There'll be no more tears over you

I'm stepping right on out of these blues
There'll be no more tears over you
