

Midnight Flyer

David Byron

Can you hear it coming in the midnight sky?
Can you hear it running?
Feel it getting nearer in the cold night air
Can you feel the fear there?

It's the midnight flyer
So you'd best beware
It's the midnight flyer

Can you feel the power taking you away?
It's the darkest hour
Ain't no use in fighting you might just as well give in?
It's as fast as lightning

It's the midnight flyer
So you'd best, you'd best, you'd best beware
It's the midnight flyer

Give him a chance and he'll steal your soul
Cast him a glance and your blood runs cold
You can run, you can hide, but you know deep inside that you'll ride
The midnight flyer, midnight flyer, midnight flyer

Flyer, take me higher, take me higher

Give him a chance and he'll steal your soul
Cast him a glance and your blood runs cold
You can run, you can hide, but you know deep inside that you'll
ride
The midnight flyer
