

Blind Hope

David Cassidy

Look baby, the sun is shining high
It's already on top of the sky.
And I've been wishin' I could fly away with you.
Yes I do feel the dark inside this room.
We must think of something soon
The dreamy afternoon is nothing to rely on.
We won't get by on blind hope.
And someday, someday, somehow,
Things will pass our way.

So come one wake up! Get out!
Feel the morning dew
We've still time to start something new.
And baby, there's a few more things
Left to do.
All through life
We've been needin' to win this race.
Unlock your allotted space.
Outside there is this place we can begin.
Don't you believe in blind hope?
And someday, someday, somehow,
Things will pass our way.
