

Heaven's Ease

David Choi

Everyone just starts to cry
And you sit and wonder why
Is there something I could take from here?
Could it be, are they right?
Is there something out of sight?
If there's heaven just tonight
Then I'll take it

Hard to tell, if it's real
If you could, the thought feels good

Once again, I'll give myself some peace
Lay to rest, at heaven's ease

Little bodies bigger worlds
In the heads of boys and girls
Even wrinkles do not show
We'll never know
Bitter hearts get exposed
Turns your heart a little cold
You never really feel at home
Inside your own

Hard to tell, is it real?
If I could, the thought feels good

Once again I'll give my soul some peace
Lay to rest, at heaven's ease

Don't bring me down...don't bring me down
Don't bring me down...don't bring me down

Once again I'll give my soul some peace
Lay to rest, at heaven's ease
