

Strange World

David Cook

All these colors and sounds, they got me out of my mind
It's like we're racing the clock and running out of time
Watch the outside burn like an effigy
We could live right here like a memory
Let the pulses run, our hearts are beating fine

Let's forget about the strange world for a minute
We got upside down took the long way 'round for the feeling
Yeah, the city lights are in our heads
But we don't have to leave this bed
Forget about the strange world for a minute

We could give it all up and leave it all behind
Staring at each other 'til we're colorblind
Let the sky come down like a falling star
Let the edges blur 'til they fall apart
No need for looking around, there's nothing else to find

Let's forget about the strange world for a minute
We got upside down took the long way 'round for the feeling
Yeah, the city lights are in our heads
But we don't have to leave this bed
Forget about the strange world for a minute

Let's forget about the strange world for a minute
We got upside down took the long way 'round for the feeling
Yeah, the city lights are in our heads
But we don't have to leave this bed
Forget about the strange world for a minute
