

Tabos

David Cook

Sending out an SOS
The sirens screaming loud
(And they're screaming in your brain)
The skin we're living in
Stretched out and wearing thin
Until it sells you out
(Now it's calling out your name)

The light's on fire but I can promise you
This'll all be over soon (This'll all be over soon)
No matter what the fight has put you through
This'll all be over soon (This'll all be over soon)

Feel the rattle in your bones
Shaking in your soul
(And it's taking us alive)
Don't let it disappear
This whisper in the ear
Cause it's telling you
(We're all lost and it's alright)

The light's on fire but I can promise you
This'll all be over soon (This'll all be over soon)
No matter what the fight has put you through
This'll all be over soon (This'll all be over soon)
