

Anxiety

David Dunn

I don't even know what I did to deserve this Feeling like a hostage locked in my own head
Can't explain it heart is racin' break into a sweat
I just wanna run away as far as I can get

Anxiety
Look at what ya doing, what ya doing to me
Anxiety
Making me my own worst enemy
Anxiety
Always try and steal my joy
You destroy my sanity
Anxiety

I don't even know what to blame for this feelin'
I can't put a face or name to this pain
Hear the static start to panic don't feel like myself
Try to fake it so afraid that everyone can tell

Anxiety
Look at what ya doing, what ya doing to me
Anxiety
Making me my own worst enemy
Anxiety
Always try and steal my joy
You destroy my sanity
Anxiety

These days I be feeling like
What if everybody wanted something from me
What if nobody really loved me
They just told me lies smiled big in they dub me
And I don't feel peace crowd yelling for me
What if I fail and don't prevail would they judge me
I'm scared of pressure and responsibility
I just wanna buy moms house in the East
My homie lost his life he took away his pain wit pills
That day I found out that the pressures of the world can kill
I lean to God cause He only one that can help me heal
I need him to grant his favor cause life a scary hill

Anxiety
Look at what ya doing, what ya doing to me
Anxiety
Making me my own worst enemy
Anxiety
Always try and steal my joy
You destroy my sanity
Anxiety

I try to put all behind me under lock and key
But in the end it's all a self fulfilling prophesy
I try to put all behind me under lock and key
But in the end it's all a self fulfilling prophesy
