

These days I can't tell which way is up, which way is down
And I feel like the earth is breaking, I can't find solid ground
What do I, what do I stand for?
How do I know where to go Lord?
Everything, everything feels upside down

I'm looking for the answers
To recognize the truth
When all the fractured pieces of this world leave me confused
I need new directions
I need Your point of view
Come and mend the compass of my heart and make it true

So the arrow points to You
So the arrow points to You

So many places and faces telling me where to go
But I've got the map that's leading me down the narrow road
By the way I just got started
By the way I know it gets harder
Keep putting one foot in front of the other

I'm looking for the answers
To recognize the truth
When all the fractured pieces of this world leave me confused
I need new directions
I need Your point of view
Come and mend the compass of my heart and make it true

So the arrow points to You

Jesus You're the only way, the only truth
I am restless until I can rest in You
So take the compass of my heart and make it true
Let it point to You

I'm looking for the answers
To recognize the truth
When all the fractured pieces of this world leave me confused
I need new directions
I need Your point of view
Come and mend the compass of my heart and make it true

So the arrow points to You
So the arrow points to You
So the arrow points to You
So the arrow points to You
So the arrow points to You
