

Conflict

David Dunn

Out with the old
And in with the new
That's what they say
Those who don't have a clue
You're fighting this rain
And then you're willing the shine
You can't help yourself
But I know you are trying

When your heart and your head disagree
Then I'll bet if you made them unite
There would be such a fight
Over what they should do
With this problem and you
Don't know how to resolve this conflict

Still chasing a dream
You're facing the facts
The weight of the reel
No more regrets
No looking back
The problem too big
The tower too high
Yes says the heart
But no says the mind

When your heart and your head disagree
Then I'll bet if you made them unite
There would be such a fight
Over what they should do
With this problem and you
Don't know how to resolve this conflict

I wish this world apart
Where I could give you all the answers
But the fight continues on
And the fact of the matter
Is I am convinced that we have spent
Far too much time on the fence
Choosing sides
Which is right

When your heart and your head disagree
Then I'll bet if you made them unite
There would be such a fight
Over what they should do
With this problem and you
Don't know how to resolve this conflict
Don't know how to resolve this conflict
Tell me how to resolve this conflict