Control

David Dunn

Here's a wild thought that just popped in my head
Maybe God knows more about me more than I ever did
When he says to walk tall and I wanna sit down
Why is it so hard to get my butt up off the ground

Seem like a crazy thing to say
Don't wanna hand over the reins
Maybe I need a little faith, faith

And if You're who You say You are
The God who holds a billion stars
Then why am I still fighting for control?
If You're who You say You are
Then I should trust you with my heart and soul
Man it's hard to do

Jesus take the wheel - I said it so many times
While I tell You where to go and try to keep You in line
Afraid that I'm wrong, leaning into my doubt
Are you really big enough that you can work all this out?

And if You're who You say You are
The God who holds a billion stars
Then why am I still fighting for control?
If You're who You say You are
Then I should trust you with my heart and soul
Man it's hard to do
To give it all

If You're who You say You are
Why am I still fighting for

And if You're who You say You are
Then I should trust you with my heart and soul
Man it's hard to do

If You're who You say You are
The God who holds a billion stars
Then why am I still fighting for control?
If You're who You say You are
Then I should trust you with my heart and soul
Man it's hard to do
To give it all
To you
